Please Note
 Use of any facilities or services is subject to the conditions set out on your ticket.

- A valid ticket entitling use of any facilities or services must be produced upon request or demand by Kosciuszko Thredbo Pty. Limited personnel.
- All recreational and sporting activities are inherently hazardous, and your participation in any such activities is an assumption by you of the risk or loss, damage or injury to you or your property (or death).
- Weather conditions (including temperatures) on mountains and slopes may change suddenly. This area and surrounding grounds have uneven surfaces. Grounds may be covered with snow and ice and can be slippery. Therefore, appropriate clothing and footwear should be worn.
- Skiers and snowboarders found skiing/boarding out of control and/or behaving recklessly will have their tickets confiscated.

KNOW THE CODE - IT'S YOUR RESPONSIBILITY.
FAILURE TO OBSERVE THE CODE MAY RESULT IN CANCELLATION OF YOUR TICKET OR PASS BY SKI PATROL OR OTHER AUTHORISED PERSONNEL.
'RESPECT GETS RESPECT' FROM THE LIFT LINE, TO THE SLOPES, THROUGH THE PARK AND THE RESORT.

Alpine Responsibility Code
 Regardless of how you enjoy your snow sport, always show courtesy to others and be aware that there are inherent risks in all snow recreational activities that common sense, protective equipment and personal awareness can reduce. These risks include rapid changes in the weather, visibility and surface conditions, as well as natural and artificial hazards such as rocks, trees, stumps, vehicles, lift towers, snow fences and snowmaking equipment.

Observe the code and share with others the responsibility for a great experience.

1. Know your ability and always stay in control and be able to stop and avoid other people or objects. It is your responsibility to stay in control on the ground and in the air.
2. Take lessons from professional instructors to learn and progress.
3. Use appropriate protective equipment to minimise the risk of injury.
4. Before using any lift you must have the knowledge and ability to load, ride and unload safely and always use the restraining devices.
5. Observe and obey all signs and warnings. Keep off closed trails or runs.
6. Give way to people below and beside you on the hill. It is your responsibility to avoid them.
7. Do not stop where you are not clearly visible from above. Look uphill and give way to others when entering/exiting a trail or starting downhill.
8. Always ensure your equipment is in good condition and use suitable restraining devices to avoid runaway skiing/boarding equipment.
9. Do not ski, board, ride a lift or undertake any other alpine activity if your ability is impaired by drugs or alcohol.
10. If you are involved in, or witness an accident or collision, alert Ski Patrol, remain at the scene and identify yourself to the Ski Patrol.

Safety and Equipment
Helmet usage. Kosciuszko Thredbo recommends the wearing of helmets for skiing and riding. Skiers and snowboarders are encouraged to educate themselves on the benefits and limitations of helmet usage. The primary safety consideration, and obligation under the Alpine Responsibility Code, is to ski and ride in a controlled and responsible manner.

Never judge weather conditions on the mountain by what you see in the village. Remember that mountain weather can change super quick. It's better to overdress - after all, you can always take something off. Try to wear several thin layers of clothing rather than one thick layer.

Hats are important. Your body loses a major part of its heat through your head. If you're cold, put a hat on. If you're over-heating, take it off. Make sure you always have the following with you: a warm hat, goggles or sunglasses, warm gloves and sunscreen as you are closer to the sun (remember that little bit under your nose and chin as the sun reflects off the snow).

Hypothermia is when a person loses so much body heat they lose the ability to re-warm themselves. The body's "stored energy" has been expended, leaving nothing to maintain body temperature at a safe level. Hypothermia is a result of cold weather conditions and high physical exertion. It can be dangerous. If you, or one of your party, begin showing symptoms such as shivering, loss of coordination, garbled speech, confusion, tiredness and lethargy, get in out of the cold, quickly and seek medical attention.

Difficult conditions - White outs: During snowstorms or high winds, visibility may suddenly be drastically reduced. Severe diffusion of light makes it hard to distinguish ground details. Ski/board slowly and beware of sudden drops or wind rolls. Ski/board on tree-lined trails, as they will provide shelter and cast enough shadow to improve visibility. Wet Conditions: Wear wet weather gear and remember, plastic rainwear slides easily on snow and ice, so be careful.

NB - Natural and man-made obstacles are a part of the alpine experience. Collision with these objects can result in serious or fatal injury. Ski/board with caution and in control. Expect the unexpected. While skiing or boarding you may encounter rocks and trees, changing visibility and snow conditions. Be aware of snow grooming machines and snowmobiles at all times.

Trail Signs and Symbols
 You'll find the trail signs shown above at various places on the mountain, they are there for your safety and protection. Please take note of them and obey them, particularly the "Trail Closed" and "Area Boundary" signs.

The trail signs used at Thredbo are the standard trail marking system used internationally. The symbols and colours indicate the relative difficulty of each trail. Bear in mind that this is relative difficulty only, and applies to the area which the sign is found.

For example, a blue "more difficult" or black "most difficult" trail near Ramshead Chairlift may well be steeper than trails with the same markings at other parts of Thredbo or in other resorts.

The signs are a guide only, the most sensible path to follow is to never take anything for granted. If you don't know a trail, treat it with caution.

Tobogganing in Thredbo is prohibited.

snowmaking

The final stage in Thredbo's $6 million snowmaking automation project has been completed with extra guns installed in the mid Supertrail and Sponars areas. Thredbo now boasts coverage across most of the middle and lower slopes.

snow grooming

Thredbo has the most modern snow grooming fleet in Australia with a new grooming machine added to the team every season. There are eight Kassbohrer machines on the mountain each night smoothing the trails, including four winch cats to give the steeper terrain a makeover. There are also specialised Park Bully machines that trim and create Thredbo's terrain park features.
